

Here are ten photos of classic “LBJs” (little brown jobs) from southern Iraq. All photos were taken in spring 2008 by © Thomas Dove. What are they? Please share your thoughts on the matter with folks who contribute to the excellent “Frontiers of Bird Identification” e-mail list:

If you are unable to send postings to “Frontiers” (although there shouldn’t be a problem), please send your thoughts and analyses directly to Birding editor Ted Floyd <tfloyd@aba.org>.
